New Santa Fe Train South in About 30 Days

A modern streamlined Diesel-powered passenger train between Lubbock and Amarillo will shortly replace the present train service, G. R. Buchanan, Santa Fe general manager, has announced.

The new service will feature a through sleeper operating on an overnight schedule between Lubbock and Chicago in connection with the San Francisco Chief at Amarillo.

Exact date of the new train's first run is not yet known, but Mr. Buchanan indicated it probably will be within the next 30 days.

The new train will have the effect of giving this area first-class transcontinental streamliner service for both West Coast and Eastern points, when coupled with the present through service connecting into the San Francisco Chief and The Grand Canyon at Clovis.

The new train will consist of a modern 2,000 horsepower Diesel locomotive and streamlined lightweight baggage car, chair car, and sleeper. The sleeper will be cut into the San Francisco Chief at Amarillo and will provide overnight service to and from Chicago. Mr. Buchanan explained that a basic change of this kind required numerous details and plans to be worked out, such as assignment of motive power, assembling of equipment, reprinting of time tables, and modification of existing main line schedules, so that it was not possible at this time to state definitely what date the inaugural run would be made.

When the train is established, however, it will provide a major change in South Plains passenger service and will provide a direct Chicago service with accommodations comparable to those on the famous Chief trains which have made Santa Fe passenger service known throughout the world.

"After a study of available equipment and considerable planning of details, we have decided to establish a new train with the hope it will provide not only splendid service, but will also accommodate our friends in other South Plains cities and towns, and encourage them to patronize this train between Lubbock and Chicago as well as all local points where it can fit into their plans. We intend to do everything possible in the way of providing the highest type of equipment and service to make our new train a permanent establishment and we invite all of our friends to give it patronage."

"All space and reservations in the new sleeper will be assigned to local stations. This sleeper will be designated to all our traffic offices throughout the United States and advertised in all our folders and documents as being an integral part of the San Francisco Chief."

Tentative plans call for the train to leave Lubbock at 3:05 p. m., arriving Amarillo at 5:25 p. m., where the sleeper will be cut into the San Francisco Chief, arriving Chicago at 12:20 p. m. the following day. Passengers en route Kansas City, where the train arrives at 4:10 a. m., can transfer into other space en route and occupy a Kansas City set out sleeper until morning at that point. On the westward move the San Francisco Chief will leave Chicago at 4 p. m., and connection will leave Amarillo 9:35 a. m. This will be overnight service in both directions between Lubbock and Chicago with a through sleeper.

Bill To Create District Attorney in Randall Sponsored

Senator Grady Hazlewood has introduced a bill in the Legislature at Austin which affects Randall County.

The office of County Attorney is abolished under the terms of the proposed law and there will be created the office of District Attorney. The new officer will be paid entirely by the county, but the savings will be considerable in so far as the taxpayers are concerned in that the new officer would abolish one of the assistant district attorneys which is charged against Randall county.

The new officer would be appointed by the Commissioners Court of Randall county until the next general election.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Love and sons of Tulsa, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lehnick of Friona, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Lehnick and son of Canyon, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Russell of Amarillo spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fullerton.

3 Plains Women Hear From Korea

About two years ago Miss Mary Moss Richardson of Canyon, Mrs. Barnett of White Deer, and Mrs. Lester Stone of Amarillo, jointly adopted a Korean orphan boy, Kim Ul Sup, in Mok Po Orphanage. This week Miss Richardson was notified of the reunion of Ul Sup with a sister. The sister appeared quite unexpectedly to assume responsibility for the boy she had formerly believed lost or dead.

Miss Richardson's letter ended with, "You will be happy to know that Ul Sup has been reunited with his sister who has now taken him into her care." Ul Sup will be 14 years of age in April and Kim Chung Nam, his successor, is nine.

The father of Kim Chung Nam died when the boy was quite small. The father had been working on a farm. After his death Kim's mother did her best to support herself and the child but could not earn enough to provide food and shelter for both of them.

Then a grandmother tried to help out but she was too old and poor herself and actually had nothing to share. Eventually welfare workers sent the child to Mok Po Orphanage and now he has become a self-supporting citizen.

Big Crowds Buy Poll Tax During Week

There was plenty of action Monday in the office of Bill Money, tax assessor and collector, in Canyon as well as the Amarillo branch.

Mr. Money turned the work of the Canyon office over to his crew of deputies and went to the assistance of the South Amarillo office. He stated that from the opening minute at 8 o'clock until 10 o'clock Monday night the office was full of persons seeking to pay their poll taxes. The office was not closed during the lunch period.

A big stack of letters had not been opened in his office Tuesday, bearing the postmark of the previous day. This is entirely legal as all remittances received Tuesday with the postmark of the previous day will be counted.

"It will be Thursday afternoon before we can possibly clear all of the mail and get a final count on the poll tax receipts," stated Mr. Money Tuesday morning. "When we put out a statement, we want it to be correct."

Brother of Mrs. Pat Britain Buried Friday

Kendrick will make the annual report to members Feb. 2.

Far Eastern markets, which have been eyed by wheat farmers as a new outlet for their grain will be discussed Feb. 2 by Richard K. Baum of Pendleton, Ore., executive secretary of the Oregon Wheat Growers League.

On the Feb. 3 sessions, Elmer Reed, president, Kansas Milling company, Wichita, Kans., will talk on "A Salesman Looks at Wheat." Reed said his speech would be a "thumb-nail sketch on world wheat as applied to the problems of the American wheat grower."

Also on the Feb. 3 program are Clayton E. Whipple, deputy administrator of Foreign Agricultural Service, USDA, and Lloyd Case, associate director, grain division, Commodity Stabilization Service, USDA. Case will speak on "Seeking a Sensible Solution."

Bufs Play 2 More Games

Back on top of Border Conference standings, West Texas State has an opportunity to increase its margin this week-end in two home games.

The Buffaloes' 87-78 trouncing of defending champion Texas Tech coupled with Arizona State's 92-74 lacing of Arizona moved West Texas to the head of the class with a league record of five wins and one defeat.

Coach Gus Miller's boys will attempt to avenge that single conference loss Saturday night when they entertain Arizona in Buffalo Fieldhouse. Arizona State will furnish the opposition Friday.

On a recent tour of Arizona, West Texas trimmed the Tempe club, 82-70, but lost a last-second 73-72 decision to the Wildcats at Tucson.

Saturday's engagement with Arizona will be the Herd's last home appearance of the campaign. They finish the season with road games at Texas Tech, Hardin-Simmons, New Mexico A & M and Texas Western.

James Scott, brilliant free-throw shooting artist, dropped seven of seven attempts against Tech and continues to pace the nation in that department. He has potted 117 of 128 attempts for an amazing 91.4 record. Scott tossed in 25 points to lead all scorers in the Tech game, hiking his season average to 19.7.

Legion Pancake Supper Nets $85 To Fight Polio

"We netted about $85 for the March of Dimes drive Sunday in our pancake supper," said Bud Parker Monday speaking for the American Legion. He went on to say, "We feel that it was a wonderful turnout for the first time. There were about 160 persons present for this one and we'll be back next year with another. By the time it is carried on a few years it will really be a great thing. The pancake supper was conducted in the high school cafeteria Sunday evening from 4 until 7:30."

Parker said that the American Legion greatly appreciated the response for the supper. He explained that the pancake supper idea was more or less on trial. As time goes on the idea of the supper to raise funds to fight polio should become more and more popular.

Chief Cook for the affair was John Hunter. The supper was made possible through a number of organizations that helped the Legion promote it by giving the groceries needed in the supper.

Among the organizations donating to this cause were Waples Platter Co., H. O. Wooten, Kimbell, Amarillo Packing Co., Pinkney Packing Co., Buffalo Food Store, and Pillsbury Milling Co.

V.F.W. Dance Is Good for $102 to March of Dimes

V.F.W. Commander O. A. "Boots" McBroom said Monday that the V.F.W. March of Dimes dance Saturday netted about $102 for the polio fund drive this year. One of the things McBroom said the V.F.W. members were especially thankful were the musicians who donated their time, services, and talents for the occasion. They were Wayne and Rex Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Mann, Archer Le Grande and L. D. Caldwell.

The V.F.W. commander said that about 125 persons were present for the dance given especially for the purpose of raising money for the March of Dimes drive. Two prizes were given. One was a door prize, an automatic skillet, and those who bought tickets for the dance received a chance at a prize which was won by Hurley Maynard.

Another prize was arranged to be given someone during the dance. This was a picnic ice box and only those present for the dance received chances on it. Gerald Warwick won the picnic ice box.

Commander McBroom said that everyone had a wonderful time. It was one of the best dances the organization has sponsored and the officers were grateful for those who participated.

Scouts Looking For Old Eagle Scouts in Area

The second annual Round-up of Ex-Eagle Scouts is now being held by the Llano Estacado Council, Boy Scouts of America.

A contest will be held to find the man who qualified as an Eagle Scout during the early days of the Boy Scout movement in America. The Boy Scouts of America was organized in February 1910 and there are thousands of men in America who have qualified for Eagle rank while they were boys.

All ex-Eagle Scouts residing in the Llano Estacado Council, which covers the counties of Dallam, Hartley, Sherman, Moore, Oldham, Armstrong, Potter, Randall, and Deaf Smith, and Happy in Swisher and Friona in Farmer, are requested to contact W. J. Hiatt in Amarillo.

A dinner will be held on Feb. 10 at 7 p. m. in the American Legion Hall, 617 W. 7th Avenue, Amarillo, which will be a part of the celebration of the 45th National Anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America which is being celebrated during the week of Feb. 6-12.

A special recognition will be given to the man who earned the Eagle Scout Award first since 1910.

The first Round-up for ex-Eagle Scouts in the Llano Estacado Council was held last year and it was interesting to note where these early Eagle Scouts now live and what they are now doing. Many of them have become outstanding citizens in their community.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

Defense of the East Passed by House; Kicked Around in Senate

The House of Representatives in Washington, D. C., gave practically unanimous approval of the defense plans of President Eisenhower. The House took only a few hours to pass the measure.

Not so in the Senate. The more deliberate body is not held in line by rules which handicap long-winded speeches, delivered to empty seats, printed at length in the Congressional Record make fine campaign thunder for the Senator's reelection.

Senators express the fear that they are giving the President too much power. They will eventually pass the measure in the same form as passed by the House, but only after the measure has been amended so that our enemies may know what stands for what in the Senate.

At the same time, let it be remembered that both FDR and Truman were soundly criticized by the Senators and by the people for not having solved the problem of the East. President Eisenhower has tried everything within his power to solve the problem. The Reds of China will listen to nothing else but power. Perhaps this is just what the Reds of Moscow want from us; perhaps they would not object to having us put on a show of strength that would frighten the Chinese into being good.

Frequently we have no idea as to the proper method of handling the situation. General MacArthur flew to California to attend the dedication of a memorial on his 75th birthday. He had been recalled as commander when he refused to obey Truman, who thought he knew how to run the war in Korea. In his speech on the East, MacArthur laid out a plan, or attempted to do so. His approach to the subject is no more satisfactory than the President's.

Perhaps the President knows best how to handle the situation. Like all other Americans he is tired of being kicked around by the Reds in China. If his plan works, well and good. If it fails, he wants the plan sketched by Congress so that someone else will share the responsibility.

Signs! Yet Who Observes the Traffic Regulations of State

"We didn't hear the talk, but it must have been a dilly."

A former citizen of Plainview, now living in El Paso, talked before the directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at Midland. He had driven quite a distance in order to attend the meeting, and was fed up with the regulations which had been imposed on traffic.

The speaker took the position that it was wrong to make law-breakers out of people with the signs 60 miles per hour daylight speed, and 55 night speed. Furthermore, the new highway signs of radar control was simply a device to encourage law breaking.

The speaker took the position that when you can see miles and miles ahead and with little or no traffic, that only the regulation should be safety in driving.

Just recent The Canyon News publisher had to make a hurried trip to Amarillo for printing supplies. He kept his car under 60 miles per hour coming and going, but the cars along the highway passed him like he was standing still. Yet the signs were up as stated above. There was no highway speed cop in evidence. The cars were speeding on just like nothing was in the making.

There is something to be said about safety in driving, as opposed to the use of old wrecks on the highways. The latter class should be prohibited the use of the highways, but again, who is in the judge?

This is just another problem for the lawmakers to scratch their heads over.

Local Newspapers Are a Part Of the Community Growth

The surest way to develop the local community and create permanent prosperity is to encourage the building up of steady payrolls.

Information that shows the individual his interest in productive enterprise is indispensable to the sound solution of questions that encourage the establishment or growth of industries and business.

Just as industries bring business to every store, so do they make possible advertising and subscribers upon which the local newspaper depends, and herein lies the interest of editors in the problems of industry.

That this philosophy is sound and has a direct bearing on the prosperity of every community, every business and every individual is evidenced by figures released by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States covering the period from 1940 to 1950. They show that for every 100 new industrial workers in nine counties surveyed by the Chamber, retail sales increased $360,000, personal income $590,000, and bank deposits $270,000.

An increase of 100 industrial workers meant 174 new jobs in other lines of work, 112 more households and a population increase of 296—new purchasers of all manner of goods and services. The survey covered a ten year period and was designed to measure the impact of new industry on local business.

The problems of industry are the problems of the people. They involve the welfare of the publisher, who is the spokesman for the people and every business in the community.

People rely heavily on the home town paper. No other agency is a substitute for it. From politics, deaths, births and editorial comment on public issues, local and national, to household recipes, the grass roots press informs its subscribers.

It is the newspaper that people live with, sit down with, and study. Its editorials help its readers formulate their own conclusions on current issues—not necessarily in agreement with the editor. It is therefore logical that editors should take the lead in discussing issues which involve production and payrolls—bread and butter for all.

So long as the average citizen lets the possession of considerable money determine a person's importance, the country will have crooks, rackets and gangsters.

Competition is the key to success of the competitive system but some business men would endanger that free enterprise system by seeking monopoly.

The United States is going to lose a war, someday; it can happen.

No one has seen or heard from Hitler lately, as far as we have observed.

Question of Kind of Government Is an Old and Mooted Problem

Ever since history began there has been an irreconcilable conflict between those who believe in powerful and paternalistic government, and those who believe in placing the greatest possible limitations on government's authority over the lives and liberties of its citizens. That conflict continues today, in intense form. And without going into debates of theory, there is one fact that is undeniable—the paternal government is a mighty begetter of bureaucracy. It has to be. For, obviously, the more government does, the more people it needs to do it. And these people, human nature being what it is, assume all the power and importance they can.

Time, in its issue of January 10th, tells a remarkable story of what bureaucracy (aided and abetted by contributory factors) can do and has done in one essential field of enterprise in one country. The country is France, and the field of enterprise is housing. Time's article, which is based on a report made by French Socialist Deputy Albert Garner to the National Assembly, begins with this sentence: "France, long one of the most enlightened nations in the world, is backward to the point of primitivism when it comes to putting a roof over people's heads." The bare facts, presented without embellishment, will seem incredible to most Americans.

In Paris the average age of buildings is 83 years, and one-quarter of all the apartments are without running water. In the province things are still worse—the average age of buildings is 120 years and only a third of the rural population of 20,000,000 has running water in their homes. In beautiful and famed Brittany 45 per cent of the homes have earth floors. Twenty-five per cent of all couples who married in 1945 are still looking for homes of their own, while they live with parents or stay in hotels or kitchenless furnished rooms.

The Deputy blamed all this on lack of initiative, excessive costs, and old-fashioned building methods, but Time observes, "Being a Socialist, he did not add another of France's basic difficulties—bureaucracy. Deputy Garner told only half of a sad story that helps explain France's divisions, frustrations and sullen hatred. More than 2,000,000 French families live in houses built before the Battle of Waterloo."

How did bureaucracy contribute materially to such a situation? For one thing, the government has imposed control laws that hold legal rents to ridiculously low levels. It's impossible for owners to pay taxes and keep their properties up. So no repairs are made and there is no private construction of new housing for people of limited means. There have been some municipal developments, but only a favored few have benefited from them.

For another thing, the French bureaucracy is so dense and so immersed in red tape that it takes some 15 months to obtain a permit to build a house. And the French building contractors seem to be in the same kind of a rut. For, even after a permit is granted, it takes an average of two-and-a-half years to get a house built.

A badly housed people, like a badly fed people, is unstable and unhappy. So it's only fair to conclude that France's housing situation has contributed to her grave present problems—problems that are of the utmost concern to the whole Western defense alliance.

Mail Service Highly Criticized When Turned to the Airplanes

There is growing criticism in many quarters of recent moves by the Post Office Department which have diverted much three-cent mail from the railroads to airlines and motor carriers.

The reason for the criticism is that the trains are the very backbone of the mail system. They do the job with unparalleled economy and efficiency.

An official report covering a late year shows that railroads moved about 85 per cent of all non-local domestic mail—yet the payments they received for the service amounted to less than 13 per cent of total Post Office expenditures. For carrying a first-class, 3-cent letter the railroads received an average of only one-eighth of one cent. By contrast, the airlines received 24 cents for carrying the average air mail letter. On first-class mail—moved mainly by rail between cities—postal revenues exceeded postal expenses by more than $39,000,000. On domestic air mail letters and cards, on the other hand, postal expenditures exceeded revenues by $29,000,000, including subsidy payments to the airlines.

On top of that, the railroads provide a complete mail service. They maintain facilities for mail-handling at 35,000 points. They provide and maintain the post office cars on which sorting and distributing functions are accomplished en route. They provide the service of armies of workers who separate, load and unload the mail. They also provide an needed switching and terminal services.

Yes, the Iron Horse is the backbone of the mail system. Anything which undermines railroad mail operations cannot help but undermine the whole system.

Soak the Rich! Soak the Rich! Yet Who Is Poor or Who Rich?

Does anybody still believe that we can maintain the government by soaking the rich, as the old-time agitators used to claim?

Well, here is what the Tax Foundation has to say about that. If the federal government took 100 per cent of everybody's taxable income above $10,000 the gain in revenue would be less than $5,000,000,000—which wouldn't pay government's costs for a single month.

If it took all taxable income above $4,000—a figure which is certainly a far cry from richer these days—the Treasury would benefit to the tune of $13,000,000,000. But that's only one-fifth of our current annual federal spending.

There just aren't enough rich or well-to-do people to meet the costs. So the burden of government is borne by the masses of people and always will be.

Those citizens who took none of the risks in defending their country in foreign wars should not be too critical of veterans and veteran's organizations.

Every citizen, we believe, would benefit from church membership and the effort to further his or her spiritual growth in every way possible.

Mr. Eisenhower says he does not engage in personal vituperation, which is a good thing for the President of the United States to say.

SCHOOL GETS PORTLINE

Hollywood, Calif.—The public's sympathetic response to an appeal by Ralph Edwards a short time ago on his "This Is Your Life" program, which told the story of Dr. L. C. Jones, 79-year-old Negro educator and his 24,000-acre school at Piney Woods, Miss., brought a total of more than $400,000 to the school the first week after the appeal. Edwards asked a million people to send in $5 each for maintaining and expanding the school.

Sardine Dishes Provide Hearty Fare for Lenten Menus

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

SARDINES swim into their own on the nation's menus with the coming of Lent. Long-time favorites as the basis for hearty Dutch lunch-type snacks late in the evening, sardines help make taste-tempting salads any-day delight, and are a protein-rich, low-cost answer to the housewife's prayer for a hot sandwich.

Sardine Apple Salad (6 servings)

Two cans Maine sardines (3 1/4-ounce size), 1 firm red apple, 1 1/2 cups diced boiled potatoes, 1 1/2 cups diced pickled beets, 1/4 cup minced sweet pickles, 1 small onion (chopped), 4 tablespoons vinegar, 2 tablespoons water, 2 tablespoons sugar, salt and pepper to taste, 2 hard-cooked eggs, 1/2 cup sour cream, 1 teaspoon pickled beet juice.

Drain oil from sardines and cut into small pieces. Peel, core and chop apple and combine with sardines along with potatoes, pickled beets, pickles and onion. Mix vinegar, water, sugar and salt and pepper. Toss lightly into sardines and vegetables.

Pack into a 1-quart mold that has been rinsed in cold water and chill several hours in refrigerator. Unmold and garnish with wedges of hard-cooked eggs. Serve with sour cream beaten stiff and lightly tinted with pickled beet juice.

Whole Meal Sardine Sandwiches (4 servings)

One can Maine sardines (3 1/4-ounce size), 1/4 cup butter or margarine, 1/4 cup flour, 1 1/2 cups milk, 1 cup fresh cooked or canned peas, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 4 slices bread, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tomatoes.

Make a white sauce from butter, flour and milk. Add drained peas, salt and keep hot over boiling water. Toast the bread, and butter the slices. Drain oil from sardines. Arrange on toast and top with tomato slices. Place under broiler long enough to heat tomatoes through. Serve hot with a generous helping of the creamed peas over the top.

Sardine salad does double duty. It's a real taste treat, and at the same time an economical source of needed protein.

NOT PAID FOR THAT

During a layover on a recent week-end trip, we overheard the ticket agent make assurances that a certain train would be on time. One man, after pacing the station platform for more than an hour, stalked angrily to the ticket window.

"Why didn't you tell me this train was late when I asked you before?" he fumed.

"Look here, Mister," replied the complacent agent, "I ain't paid to sit here and knock the railroad."

PREFERS TO EAT OUT

Pleasant Hill, Calif. — Because the dog belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Art Hakel, named Poochie, ate most of his meals at the home of Stella and Howard Waite, the Waites asked the Hakels for Poochie. They agreed, but now the Waites never see Poochie—he went back to scrounging meals from his original owners.

Mrs. Bluppmier turned to her dinner guest and beamed, "Mr. Poupodnik, I know how you love apple strudel. Won't you take a couple more?" Mr. Poupodnik blushed happily, "I would love to take some more, Mrs. Bluppmier," he said, "but I'm positively embarrassed. I've already had eight." "You've already had eleven," corrected Mrs. Bluppmier, "but who counts around here?"

FAMILY RESEMBLANCE

The rookie was driving the garbage wagon through the army camp when one of the mules fell over dead. Jumping from the wagon, he ran to where the sergeant was standing. "Hey, Sarge," he called, "my mule just fell dead."

"Well, why don't you bury him?" asked the sergeant. "You was an undertaker in civilian life, wasn't you?"

"Yeah," said the indignant rookie, "but I thought it only right to notify the next of kin."

NO INSECT

There had been a rear-end collision. One of the drivers climbed out in a fit of temper and strode up to a man standing on the sidewalk, thinking him to be the other driver.

"Say, where's your taillight?" he roared.

The innocent bystander looked up at him, "What do you think I am a blooming lightning bug?"

TO EACH HIS OWN

"What did you come to college for anyway?" demanded the disgusted Professor. "You are not doing any studying."

"Well," replied the student, "Mother says it's to fit me for the Presidency of the United States. Uncle Jim says it's to sow my wild oats. Sister Helen says it's to get a chum for her to marry. And Dad says it's to bankrupt the family."

At the school's annual Parents' Night, the program included several musical selections, one of which was a rather high-pitched version of "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" by four boys.

As their young voices wavered through the song, a woman in the audience began to cry softly. The spectator next to her leaned over and, smilingly whispered, "You must be Irish."

"Oh, no," sobbed the woman, "I'm the music teacher."

A man walked into a restaurant handed the waiter two vitamin pills, and asked him to dissolve them in a bowl of clam chowder. After a long interval he asked why he hadn't been served. "You'll get your soup, sir," the waiter said, "as soon as we can get the clams to lie down."

TRUE WORDS

The youngest wolfed his dinner while Father looked on disapprovingly. Finally, the not-too-proud parent spoke: "Jimmy, you're a pig. You know what a pig is, don't you?"

The small fry looked up and replied complacently, "Yup, a pig is a hog's little boy."

A minister, making a call, was sitting in the parlor with his hostess when her small son came running in carrying a dead rat.

Musical Program, and Rotarian Is Discussed by Club

Mrs. Glenn W. Dowlen brought a group of girls to the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday from the fifth and sixth grades of the Canyon public schools, who sang a group of five songs.

Bud Parker closed the program by discussing the Rotarian, official magazine of the Rotary Club. "From the standpoint of literary accuracy and typographical perfection, the magazine has no equal," stated the speaker.

The magazine goes into the homes of every Rotarian, in addition to being sent over the world to thousands of subscribers.

Of all the magazines published in America, the Rotarian stands near the top, with several articles selected monthly for reprint in other publications, and the State Department averages one per month for free distribution.

The magazine is purely impersonal. Both sides are represented. The magazine has a regular staff of 30 trained magazine writers. Free lance writers have little chance of being accepted. More than 1200 interviews are held annually for the purpose of finding out the kind of magazine which will appeal to readers. During a recent month 400 articles were presented and only four were accepted.

Mr. Parker called upon Guy Harp, Boone McClure, and Herschel Coffee, who gave their personal endorsement to the content of the magazine.

Visitors were: Marcial Moore of Abilene; E. H. Miller of Snyder; Forrest Barnes, E. Kancher, Bill Dell, J. M. Kone, Marvin Paul, Ed Smith, A. J. Folley, E. C. Wagner, all of Amarillo.

CAULIFLOWER CHEESE AND PINEAPPLE

More than a vegetable dish, you'll serve this flavorful cauliflower treat often. Clean one cauliflower, cut in small pieces. Boil in salted water until tender, but not soft. Spread a layer of cauliflower over the bottom of a casserole. Over this place a layer of crushed pineapple just as it comes from the 1 lb. 4 oz. can. Sprinkle lightly with grated American cheese. Repeat this until all the cauliflower and pineapple have been used, ending with the pineapple. Sprinkle with cheese and dot with pieces of butter. Bake until bubbly and slightly brown in a 375 degree F. oven. Serve very hot.

WASHINGTON AND

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Hottest action in new Congress convening in January is expected to center in House Ways and Means Committee where all tax legislation must originate.

Due to recent elections Rep. Jere Cooper (D., Tenn.) is expected to place doughty Rep. Daniel Reed

(R., N. Y.) as chairman. However, Dan Reed, an aggressive, intrepid champion of individual freedom who was often a thorn in administration's side on tax matters and with his successful battle to postpone opening doors to flood of cheap tariff free foreign goods, is expected to remain on committee.

But Rep. Dingell (D., Mich.) ranking democrat on committee announces he will introduce bill on first day of Congress to cut individual income taxes, and repeal tax cut on dividends passed in last session.

To be sure, a general tax cut for everyone has wide emotional appeal that could be reflected in next election.

But, far deeper issue is involved than political expediency.

In several nationwide membership polls National Federation of Independent Business voted overwhelmingly in favor of tax relief on dividends in belief risk capital must be encouraged to provide expanding employment. It was also realized that small, medium and large corporations would all benefit, but independent business was opposed to any discrimination in this matter.

However, by same token Federation membership also voted overwhelmingly for tax relief for millions of individually, or partnership owned enterprises which provide substantial employment, so that they, too, could expand. The goose that lays the golden eggs of employment should be encouraged whether goose is owned by stockholders or an individual.

But for some obscure reason, perhaps backgrounds of cabinet members, administration chose to almost entirely support measures applicable to corporate enterprises, largely ignoring fact same philosophy should apply to non-corporate enterprises.

Thus administration's "half-a-loaf" approach to a basic economic concept has made it possible for cry poor are being soaked while rich benefit. This is but a half truth, but history's course has oft been altered by half truths whelped by uncorrected "half-a-loaf" measures.

But in present situation, administration has opportunity rarely offered, during deliberations of Ways and Means committee, to correct great injustice done to non-corporate businesses comprising about 90% of nation's 4,000,000 independent enterprises that supply majority of American jobs. But just as it is a guess whether this injustice against small business and the American economy was perpetrated by oversight, or intent, so stand administration will take is likewise matter of conjecture.

Of course, in meantime, events could occur to make possible sweeping tax cuts for all.

That would be success of Gov. J. Bracken Lee of Utah in getting declared illegal foreign give-away programs which have sapped, continue to sap, American economic vitality during this generation and for generations to come.

Chicago. — Leo Reese, a waiter, while working nights, progressed through Wright Junior College, John Marshall Law School, the University of Illinois and Roosevelt University. He is now taking a course in child guidance at DePaul University, using his own family as his field work. Reese has eight children.

JUNK MAIL

The Post Office Department has officially junked its experiment, which started in August, 1953, under which "junk mail," carrying neither name nor house number, could be sent to homes at bargain rates. Such deliveries will end on March 31st.

VITAL STATISTICS

As 1954 bowed out, Public Health Service projections indicated that the annual death rate for the nation will be 9.2 deaths per 1,000, an all-time low, while births will top 4,000,000, the highest ever. Divorces appeared to be down 40 per cent or more from the 1946 peak.

DRUNK DRIVING COSTLY

St. Paul, Minn. — Earl M. Larimer, State Safe Driving official, recently reported that motorists driving while under the influence of alcohol were involved in more than 2,600 accidents on Minnesota's streets and highways last year, with 46 fatal accidents.

Shawnee, Okla. — Although she was rushed to a hospital by her parents, Pfc. and Mrs. Bill Miles, little Linda Sue Miles, 2, choked to death when a peanut lodged in her throat. She died before arrival at the hospital.

Influential Democrats in Congress were cool to a Republican sponsored proposal to invite the Chief Justice of the United States to address a joint session annually on the state of the Federal judiciary.

COLORADO HERMIT DIES

Agular, Colo. — Arthur Minter Pritchard, 72-year-old bachelor hermit, who barricaded his home to visitors after the death of his parents in the early 1930's, was found dead apparently of natural causes. Vast amounts of canned food, soap, furniture, boxes, books and other articles were found in the house, plus more than $1,500 in cash hidden in boxes and tobacco sacks.

YOUNG CIGAR-SMOKER

Boston, Mass. — John J. Connolly, Juvenile Court judge, recently saw a little boy, sitting in a doorway, puffing on a cigar. He casually asked, "Son, why aren't you in school?" The little boy took the cigar out of his mouth and replied, "Mister, I'm too young to go to school."

HITS WRONG CAR

Helena, Mont. — While driving along the highway, Albert L. Foster, 31, took a bite out of a plum and decided he did not like it. Without looking, he tossed it out. The plum splattered against the windshield of a car, driven by Patrolman Ernie DeDycker, who stopped Foster and charged him with dumping garbage on a public highway.

JUST CHILLY?

London. — According to the Moscow radio, the mercury fell to 65 below recently in Verkhoyansk, Siberia. However, they said that wasn't bad for Verkhoyansk where it got down to 90 below back in February of 1892 — the coldest on record.

Master...

He walked on the water, He stilled the storm, He calmed the winds, He healed the sick, He overcame Satan, He even forgives sin... What a Master! Napoleon said "Jesus founded an empire upon love, and at this hour millions of men would die for Him. He loved the church enough to die for it. Do you love the church? Without Him, what business can succeed? What nation can survive? What soul can be redeemed? He has outlasted the empire that crucified Him, and will outlast the dictators who defy Him. One of the most interesting towns I have ever visited is Eureka Springs, Arkansas. It was away back in 1925.

Eureka Springs is up in the Ozarks in the northwest corner of the State. There are 63 springs inside the city limits. When you bought a lot along the side of a hill, you had your building material and water supply, too, because many of the homes were built of rock that was quarried from the hills and there was quite likely to be a spring on the premises, already provided by nature.

The most unusual building in Eureka Springs was an eight-story hotel, and every floor a "ground floor." You could start climbing up the hill at the rear of the building and go in at the back door of any floor by crossing a little bridge at whatever floor level you chose. It was a lot more fun than taking the elevator.

And think what a fine fire escape that would be, too.

And if you wanted to leave without paying your bill—well, I don't know what the management did to cope with that situation!

Some of the business buildings in Eureka Springs, were two stories high on the street on one side and three stories or five stories high on the street on the other side.

There are 263 streets in the town and they sort of slant into each other—none of them intersect at right angles on account of the slope of the hills.

And, instead of alleys, there were stairways.

To tell you a little more about the springs:

One of them was named "Carry Nation," in honor of the famous dry crusader who used to chop saloons to pieces with a hatchet; it was quite appropriate to name a spring of pure, cool, clear water for her. And, by the way, Hatchet Hall, Carry A. Nation's old home, is preserved there yet.

Another spring was known as the Liberty Bell because it was under a peculiar rock formation beneath which you could peer and you saw a shape like the inside of a big bell—there was even a crack as there is in famous old Liberty Bell in Philadelphia.

Conservation Film Viewed by Lions

Wesley Earp showed the Lions Club a film which he produced at their regular luncheon Wednesday. He was introduced by Ed Thames. The film covered the subject of soil conservation.

First part of the film showed the exploitation of the soil, particularly in the Brownfield area, and the second part showed what some farmers had done to better conserve their land. Conservation has become a primary issue with the farmers of this country, according to Mr. Earp, and they are improving conservation methods each year.

George Rhoden and Rufus Graves were welcomed into the club as new members. Dale Edwards of Channing was a visitor.

FHA LOANS

Requests for FHA home-financing in November more than doubled that for November, 1953, and set a new record for the month, according to the Federal Housing Administration. It was the fourth straight month for which a new record was set. Despite the onset of poor construction weather, 52,700 home builders and buyers applied for FHA mortgage insurance—only 5,750 fewer than in October and more than twice the 23,700 applications in November of 1953, and well above the record of 48,600 in 1947.

NEW ASSISTANT

Nelson A. Rockefeller has been appointed by President Eisenhower as a White House assistant on foreign policy, charged with helping to develop and maintain government programs which will contribute to global cooperation and understanding. In his role, Mr. Rockefeller will attend Cabinet and all other high level policy meetings.

CROP PRICE SUPPORTS

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has reduced price supports for small grains—oats, rye, barley and grain sorghums—and simultaneously eased production controls, set up earlier to hold down total crop plantings next year. The 1955 support level for small grains will be 70 per cent of parity rather than the 85 per cent in effect this year.

WAR PROSPECTS

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has declared that the threat of another world war is receding because the free nations had made a "substantial" net gain during the past year, but he warned that this trend could be safeguarded only if they remained strong and vigilant.

GI RIGHTS

President Eisenhower recently issued an executive order ending certain wartime rights of thousands in the armed services. The order set January 31 as the date after which those entering the armed services no longer would be eligible for various veteran's wartime benefits.

AGRICULTURAL OUTPUT

The 1954 agricultural output of this country was the fifth largest in its history. It was only three per cent below that of 1953, according to the final 1954 crop report of the Agriculture Department.

ROTARY STAMP

An eight-cent stamp commemorating the 50th anniversary of Rotary International will be placed on sale in Chicago on February 23, according to the Post Office Department. The basic design of the stamp was executed by W. W. Wind, who was commissioned for the task by Rotary.

The Presidential highway advisory committee has proposed a ten-year $101,000,000,000 Federal-state-local highway program, designed to meet traffic needs of the next 20 to 30 years.

Homes May Be Built With Lowest Costs

Families in Canyon desiring to build a new home or modernize an older one this year will find conditions more favorable than at any time in many months, according to C. R. Burrow, of Burrow Lumber Co., local retail lumber dealer and member of the Public Affairs Committee of the National Retail Lumber Dealers' Association.

"Building costs have become stabilized, time payment loans can be obtained on the most attractive terms ever offered, and the market offers a greater variety of good materials than ever before," Mr. Burrow said.

"In addition, the number of skilled workmen is at an all-time peak, which means that building work can be started and completed sooner and better quality of work is assured. Materials of all kinds are available on short notice."

"Buyers who take advantage of government insured or guaranteed mortgage loans to purchase new homes will find monthly payments at an all-time low because more time is allowed for repayment of the principal, and down payments are the lowest ever offered."

"Home repairs and improvements can be paid for over a period as long as 36 months, and no down payment is required in many cases."

"Mortgage funds currently are plentiful, although further expansion in the high building rate experienced during the past year might bring back the shortages experienced some months ago. However, lumber dealers and other building industry organizations are cooperating to keep funds flowing steadily, even in smaller communities where shortages always appear first."

Farm Land Is Lower in Texas By 2 Percent

Prices of farmland in Texas fell two percent in the four months ending November 1, 1954, according to a farm real estate market report issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

In general, prices of farmland strengthened in the central Corn Belt and some states along the eastern seaboard, while in most other states they drifted moderately lower. Texas was among 11 states to drop two percent or more.

New high prices were reached in six states, and in 16 others values were within five percent of their previous highs. Largest declines were in the mountain and Pacific coast regions where farm real estate values in November averaged 15 percent lower than peak levels.

Most of the moderate change in land values occurring in individual states was credited to local and regional differences in weather, crop outturns and local supply-demand situations, says U.S.D.A.

In some Southeastern and South Central states, drought, lower farm income and inability of many prospective buyers to meet lender's requirements resulted in a dull and inactive land market.

Wyoming and Colorado showed the largest declines in farmland prices, four and three percent, respectively, reflecting the severe drought in parts of these states.

Randall Over Top Sale of Defense Bonds

Randall County was one of 10 of 46 counties in Northwest Texas to go over the top in the sale of defense bonds during the past year according to statement received from Nathan Adams of Dallas, state chairman.

A quota of $356,250 was assigned to Randall by the State Committee. The sale for 1954 was 103.26% above the quota.

The Amarillo area sold a total of only 83.12% of its quota for the past year; while Texas as a whole sold only 82.22% of its quota, or $163,860,747. Dallas had the lowest sale of any area in the state, with 72.97% of its quota; Waco was next to the bottom, with 77.01% of its quota sold. None of the seven financial centers met the quota for the year. Fort Worth led the state with a total sale of 92.98% of its quota.

Bobby Cole and George Dowlen were home from Austin for the week-end, where they are attending the University of Texas.

Bill Andis Has Busy Week Austin As Representative

Thousands of festival-minded Texans jammed Austin this past week to participate in the inaugural festivities. Among those attending from the Panhandle and visiting with me were Ralph Radel and daughter, Margaret, of Panhandle. They saw Governor Allan Shivers become the first third-term chief executive in history and Ben Ramsey the lieutenant governor for the second time in "Panhandle-like" weather.

The weather was cold and extremely windy but thousands viewed the ceremonies. Ramsey, first to take the oath, pointed to his program of strengthening the insurance laws and then the Governor urged that the chief executive be elected for four years instead of two.

There was a round of dances and receptions in Austin on Tuesday night and on Wednesday morning Texas found itself under a new administration.

The legislative hopper has been jammed with the introduction of bills in the House and Senate this past week and according to reports the most misunderstood bill in the hopper is the economic waste statute (sometimes known as a price-fixing bill). This legislation is vital to Texas if we are to avoid permanent federal control by the Federal Power Commission of natural gas prices.

The first tax bill of the session, a two cents per gallon increase in the gasoline levy as proposed by Governor Shivers, was filed on Friday by Rep. Charles Murphy of Houston. If passed by the two houses the increase would provide from $45 to $61 million a year in additional revenue for highway purposes. One fourth of the amount raised by the tax increase would automatically go to the public schools under a requirement of the State Constitution. Personally, I will have to be convinced that there is a real need for this additional gasoline tax before I can cast a vote in favor of it. A one-cent increase would be a lot better as the automobile is not a luxury any more but a necessity.

Our section of the State was again recognized with the appointment of Al Muldrow of Brownfield as Secretary of State to replace C. E. Fulgham, who has resigned to become vice-president of the First National Bank of Lubbock.

Among the newest measures to be introduced was one to give landowners control over prospectors for uranium and other hard minerals.

In closing, may I ask you to bear in mind that not only do your suggestions and opinions offer food for thought, but they point to a field of worthwhile study and constructive action.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

While he went along with the gag when the Federal Trade Commission found over a thousand paper wholesalers guilty of conspiracy, Commissioner Lowell Mason, master of brilliant brittle prose wrote a separate concurring opinion which may well be used as evidence by those wishing to eliminate FTC as a useless appendage on government.

and substitute for it a more efficient and aggressive defender of nation's anti-trust laws.

This decision was against what is called the fine and wrapping paper wholesalers. Fine paper is defined as printing papers. Since 1948 FTC has been as busy as bees on this case.

The FTC cited some 22 regional trade paper associations, and blanketed in as unnamed defendants about 900 paper wholesalers who were called "class respondents."

As Mason points out in his opinion, these "class respondents" are mostly small businessmen scattered all over the nation serving small order customers with specialty paper products. But FTC held that if they belonged to a trade association they were guilty per se of conspiracy. Entire evidence entered against many individual wholesalers was that at time of complaint they were members of some regional trade association.

And yet, while Mason's long opinion pitifully emphasizes many points, it does skirt around big issue of FTC operation.

Big issue is this. The production of all kinds of paper is dominated by a few companies who sell direct to larger users, leaving small pickings to wholesalers. These large mills also offer bigger customers fantastic discounts on quantity purchases.

Thus a very small printer usually must buy from a wholesaler. If he becomes larger, he may be able to buy direct from a mill, but if he is a large user of paper, he can buy carload lots from the mill at price reductions which make it impossible for small and medium size printers to compete for printing work on major jobs. And of course no wholesaler can meet the price competition of his own suppliers.

In paper case, as in so many other cases, FTC decided something was rotten in Denmark but went to Greenland to investigate. In fact, their actions are often akin to that which would prevail if police jailed victims of robbers while not touching bandits.

A few months ago, in tire discount decision, FTC laid down a rule which would have solved not only many problems of tire industry, but also paper industry and many others. But so far FTC has not invoked their own rulings but held compliance in abeyance while ruling goes through slow, laborious trial of court tests. In meantime, small business suffers from continuation of practices which FTC found damaging and illegal.

That is why there is substantial misgiving in Washington about FTC which has shown itself so high and mighty in cracking down on the little man, so blind to the transgressions of the great. And that is why a group of senators, including Sen. Estes Kefauver of crime investigation fame, are talking loudly about an appropriation of a million dollars to finance full scale investigation of why nation's anti-trust laws are not being enforced, and what measures are needed to insure their enforcement.

Driver Pact Is Needed in Texas By Car Owners

"We need all the drivers in Texas to make 'pacts' with themselves to emphasize the fact that Texas drivers are courteous drivers!"

In these words, R. B. Roaper of Houston, president of the Texas Safety Association, announced the goal of the traffic courtesy program which the Texas Safety Association and the Texas Department of Public Safety are conducting in cooperation with the National Safety Council and the Inter-Industry Highway Safety Committee throughout February.

Mr. Roaper explained that these "pacts" should contain the Code of the Road pledges attesting that the participants will observe seven rules of courteous driving.

"Courtesy programs aren't new," Mr. Roaper said. "But this courtesy program is different in one important respect — the results can be measured."

According to Mr. Roaper, the impetus for the local program came from Midland, Michigan, where a similar program was conducted most successfully last October. During the month-long program, Midland signed up 10,000 drivers in the area — virtually a 100 per cent showing.

In Texas, the Texas Safety Association and the Department of Public Safety are not asking motorists to sign written pledges, but Mr. Roaper and Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Department of Public Safety, have issued a joint appeal for each driver in the state to make a "pact" with himself agreeing to adhere to the basic rules of driving courtesy.

Mr. Roaper said that the Code of the Road commits the driver to do no more than observe the ordinary rules of traffic courtesy. Here are its provisions:

Code of the Road
Courteous driving will save lives. My code of the road is COURTESY. I will NOT be the cause of an accident.

I WILL
SHARE the road by driving in the proper lane.
ALLOW ample clearance when passing.
YIELD the right of way to other drivers to pedestrians.
GIVE proper signals for turns and stops.
DIM my headlights when meeting or following vehicles.
RESPECT traffic laws, signs, signals and road markings.
ADJUST my driving to road, traffic and weather conditions.

Around the Town . .

(By Mrs. Clyde W. Warwick)

Randall County's Public Library, located at 507 16th St., had its beginning in 1906 when the Woman's Book Club organized and had as a requirement for membership the gift of a book. These books were rotated among the members. Later this was discontinued and other means used for purchasing books. When the Woman's Book Club began meeting in the Court House the books were placed in the Court House. This library grew until it became large enough that membership cards could be sold. At first members of the Woman's Book Club kept the library open certain afternoons of the week.

In 1925 the Sue Hite Club was organized and the club joined the Woman's Book Club in sponsoring the library.

In Jan., 1934, Randall County and the city of Canyon joined these two clubs in support of the library. The library was named the Randall County Public Library and opened to the public free. It was decided to have a board composed of the librarian, three members of the Woman's Book Club, three members of the Sue Hite Club, one member from Canyon, and one member from the county. For a few months Miss Fannie Malone served as Librarian and in 1936 Mrs. Chester Pierle became librarian and has been with the library ever since.

In 1948 the present building and grounds were purchased by Randall County and fitted as a library.

The city and county each pay $85 a month toward the library. Of this $170, a little more than $140 goes for the salary of the librarian, Mrs. Chester Pierle, and the assistant librarian, Mrs. Cecil Bosley, leaving about $25 a month for the purchase of books, magazines and the upkeep of the books. In addition to this, the Woman's Book Club and the Sue Hite Club each give around $50 a year to the support of the library.

The county pays the gas, lights and the yardman. They have given all the bookshelves, the chairs, benches, and installed the present heating system.

The city gives the water and installed the present sprinkling system in the yard.

The Home Demonstration Clubs of the county gave the money for the lawn and the shrubs.

In July, 1941, the Lions Club gave $500.28 to the library to be used as a nucleus for a building fund, this was placed in bonds. This money was not needed for the building and is now being used for furniture.

The library has on its shelves today 10,062 books and this last year checked out 11,055 books, besides this there are many readers who come to the library to do research work and read the magazines which are not checked out. The library subscribes for 29 magazines and 56 magazines are given regularly to it. This year 197 new books were purchased and 30 books were given. The number of readers plainly shows the need and usefulness of the library to the city and county. Since the library is free it must be supported by donations. Many of the books on the shelves are worn, many, especially the required reading in high school and college, are very poor print, badly worn and should be replaced.

The present board is: Mrs. Chester Pierle, librarian; Mrs. I. F. SoRelle, chairman; Mrs. Lon Fanning, secretary; Mrs. Clay Cooper, treasurer; Mrs. Levi Cole, Mrs. M. B. Measamer, Mrs. Frank Morgan, Mrs. Walter Graham, and Dan Sanders.

For the past two weeks Mrs. Clay Cooper and Mrs. I. F. SoRelle have been very active in presenting the needs of the library to many people. All agree with them that the library must have some additional, permanent fund to be used for the purchase of new books. One way they have suggested and discussed for the raising of this fund is that individuals, clubs and organizations join the Woman's Book Club and the Sue Hite Club and subscribe a stated amount to be given each year to the library.

Since the library is free and belongs to the county, it becomes the responsibility of every citizen in the county.

A special discount on books is given for libraries and it has been through the wise use of this that the Librarian, Mrs. Pierle, has been able to keep it in its present condition, but the money now available is no longer sufficient to keep the library up to its present needs.

The library is open from 2 to 5:30 week days.

The library board will meet February 1st, and at that meeting discussion of those interviewed will be presented and means of raising the needed money will be discussed.

Someone has said, "If you will teach your child to use the inside of a library he will never use the inside of a jail."

Reading is a vital and essential part of our way of life. The needs of the library have grown with the county and more funds are needed if it is to continue to serve this community adequately.

Dr. Hattie M. Anderson and Dr. J. A. Hill have completed the revised edition of their book, "My Country and Yours." This book has been adopted in Texas as United States History for the fifth or sixth grades beginning Sept. 1, 1955.

The book is a beautiful edition, illustrated by Elizabeth Rice, noted illustrator of many children's books, with many maps and pictures of important people and events of history, and deals with events leading up to the discovery of America and the history of America and the United States up to and including the election of Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1952, and the International Conferences held in 1954 at Berlin, Venezuela, and Geneva.

The author's object is the making of better Americans. A deeper appreciation of the men, women, and their ideals that have made our country what it is today and have given it a place of leadership among the nations of the world.

They feel that our young citizens need to understand now, as never before, the principles upon which the United States of America is founded.

"They need to know more about the hardships and sacrifices that their forefathers made that succeeding generations might have the freedoms that we so much enjoy. They need to feel the depth of their obligations to those who have gone before and their own duty to defend and promote the American way of life."

The authors have presented United States History in a way that is inspiring, as well as informative. They have shown our love of freedom and liberty, our resourcefulness, our enjoyment of life and work. They have pictured our way of life in a manner to inspire future generations with these same ideals that have guided and inspired us from the beginning of our Nation.

At Fergus Falls, Minn., a soft-drink-vending machine was selling 160 bottles a week in a school with 400 pupils. Local farmers got a milk-vending machine installed in the school. At the end of a month the milk-vending machine was selling 600 half-pints a week, and the soft-drink machine was taken out because its sales were down to only two bottles a week.

The Panhandle-Plains Museum has on exhibit, in the Mary E. Hudspeth room the 6th Annual Honor Awards Exhibit of Outstanding American Architecture. This exhibit shows the Honor Awards in Architecture given at the 86th Annual Convention of the American Institute of Architects in Boston, showing High Schools, Grade Schools. It is interesting that one of the awards given for Grade School Buildings is almost exactly like the new Grade School Building being built in Canyon. There are Homes, Business houses, Hotels, Hospitals, Community Centers shown in this exhibit. It is through Guy Carlander, architect of Amarillo, that Boone McClure, director of the Museum, was able to secure this exhibit, which will be on display two weeks.

Frank T. Mettison of Norwick, England, was in Canyon doing research work in the archives of the Museum and compiling material for the history of the Episcopal Church of the North Texas Missionary District. Mr. Mettison is a professor of European History in Texas University and is doing work toward his Masters Degree. He was surprised and delighted to find such an outstanding collection as the Museum has.

Mrs. Anne Wofford is in a Plainview Hospital where she underwent surgery. She is doing nicely and expects to be back in Cousins Hall soon.

Women have won another victory—this time it is at Harvard University. On January 19, women, who have gradually gained admittance to all major professional schools of Harvard University—invaded the Harvard Divinity School. They have been barred from that school 319 years.

Training of men for the ministry at Harvard dates from founding of Harvard College in 1636.

Qualified women will be admitted as regular students. With the admission of women to the Divinity School, Harvard will be participating in the graduate training of women for all major professional fields.

Mrs. V. K. McCaskill has given the All Saints Episcopal Church of Canyon a very beautiful red velvet dossal which hangs behind the altar. She has also covered all the kneeling benches in the same material. The ladies of the church have refinished the walls in a shade of pink that blends with this shade of red and makes the church most attractive.

Mrs. T. Winston Wilbanks and Mrs. Lee Foster left today for Dallas where they will attend the mid-winter executive meeting of the Texas Synodical Board.

Your doctor is not a businessman. He is a professional man. Fees are not the first consideration of a doctor true to his profession—the relief of suffering and saving lives are.

A careful study not long ago showed that the average doctor in this country does $3,000 worth of charity practice in his own office every year and devotes 10 to 15 per cent of his time to charitable institutions. The charity they perform in their offices alone is valued at more than $450,000,000 a year.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Taylor and their three year old son, Gary, have returned from a trip to Florida. They spent most of their time in Miami, taking sight-seeing trips out from there. They found the ocean a little too cool for bathing, but were delighted with the beauty of Florida. Coming back the southern route they stopped in New Orleans. They said they enjoyed every minute of the trip, but, to them there wasn't any place that compared with the Panhandle.

Mrs. Alfred Bellah has returned from visiting her aunt in Seymour. Her cousin from Greenville met her there for a visit.

Rev. Charles L. Allen, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, Atlanta, Ga., thinks we are living too fast, that many of the ills of today are caused by the rushing around we do. He says: "We are in too big a hurry, and we run by far more than we can catch up with. The Bible tells us to 'be still, and know that I am God' (Psalm 46: 10). Beauty doesn't shout. Loveliness is quiet. Our finest moods are not clamorous. The familiar appeals of the Divine are always in calm tones, a still, small voice. Here is the New Testament picture of Jesus: 'Behold, I stand at the door and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him.' (Rev. 3:20). The Divine is not obtrusive. He bursts in no one's life unbidden. He is reserved and courteous."

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS
OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

The Formosan Resolution

The resolution passed by the House by a vote of 409 to 3 was nothing less than a request by the President for a vote of confidence—a request that the Congress would support the President in such action as he might take to preserve this union and protect our sovereignty should it be challenged or attacked in the Far Eastern theater.

In other words, the administration actually said to Congress, "Anything might happen in the Far East. In the event United States forces have to use force and arms to preserve our sovereignty, and this action later turns sour or becomes unpopular, will you Members of Congress take part of the responsibility?"

The President of these United States has always had the power and the right to act forthwith in the preservation of this country. Therefore, I did not hesitate to vote for the resolution and, in effect, say to the President: "We will certainly accept responsibility as public officials for honest action taken in defense of this country and what it stands for." Had the President acted without sending this resolution to Congress, I would have given him the same support.

During the debate on this resolution, I conceived the idea that it might be very interesting to watch the antics of the newspaper people covering communist publications.

I spotted two of them in the Press Gallery—one woman and one man. I watched them at every opportunity as the debate progressed, and can assure you that they were very, very attentive. In fact, neither of them left the press gallery during the proceedings except for a momentary departure into the press room.

Whether or not this trip was made for conveying information to their papers or for some other purpose, I do not know. All the time they were in the press gallery they were feverishly writing and appeared to be taking down every word that was said. As I watched them, I marveled at what a wonderfully strange place America is. Where, behind the Iron Curtain, could an American correspondent even be present at a government proceeding, much less be allowed to take notes? Even at a small government proceeding, to say nothing of a meeting of high government officials. Should such a correspondent take notes on such a proceeding, his chances of getting them out of the Iron Curtain country would be about one out of ten million.

Frankly, I feel that reciprocity would be most appropriate in this sort of situation and that Russia or any other Iron Curtain country should be given only the same rights of news coverage in this country that we are allowed in those countries, and no more.

Committee Hot Potatoes

In a previous newsletter, I reported that I had moved my office to the third floor of the new House office building and my number is now 1330. We have a much better view from this office because it is on the south side of the building and overlooks the Mall, the Washington Monument, and most of the government buildings, including the Department of Justice and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

However, the view did not prompt the move, because there is no time to enjoy it. My prime reason for moving was the fact that both of the committees to which I am assigned are located on this floor, and this office is halfway between the committee rooms. It will be necessary for me to be very close to the committees during this session because there will be much controversial legislation in both.

For example, one of the first bills before the Interior Committee is the Hawaiian-Alaskan statehood bill. You can expect this bill to be reported favorably and to provide statehood for both Alaska and Hawaii.

I did not favor statehood for either or both last Congress, and I have not changed my position. I shall oppose these bills because I do not feel that the best interests of this country will be served at this time if we move into a new and uncharted political area.

At the other end of the hall, in the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, we will be faced with the alleged health re-insurance bill, sponsored by the President and Mrs. Hobby, but dubbed a "socialized medicine measure" by many leading doctors. These are two examples of what will be forthcoming in these committees. It is going to be a most interesting session, and I am looking forward to it with pleasure.

Beer And Wine Advertising On Television And Radio

The television and radio people have compiled a report reflecting the number of hours used by beer and wine people in advertising their products on a total of 2,139 stations. Over a period of 12 months, this reflected that for a composite week there were 9,395 radio programs sponsored by beer and wine advertisers, consuming 4,386 hours. Spot announcements for a composite week amounted to 39,110.

The beer and wine programs amounted to 1.62 percent of all programs, and spot announcements amounted to 2.85 percent of all spot announcements. For 205 television stations a composite week was also set up, and reflected 1,120 beer and wine programs, consuming 575.8 hours. Spot announcements for this composite week amounted to 3,037.

The programs were 2.99 percent of all programs on the television stations and the spot announcements were 3.53 percent of all spot announcements.

Buffs Whip Tech Friday Night at New Field House

The galloping herd of West Texas State put in a strong bid for the Border Conference title here Friday night by stopping the defending champs, and arch rivals, Texas Tech 87-78 in the Buffalo's huge workshop.

The Buffs will meet Tempe of Arizona here next Friday night. Arizona University, the only Border Conference team which has defeated the Buffs, will play here next Saturday night.

A capacity crowd jammed this fine fieldhouse to watch one of the most thrilling games of the season. It wasn't until the final stages of the contest before the winner was decided, although the Herd, at one time, had Tech down 19 points with 6:54 left in the ball game.

Buffalo head coach Gus Miller used only five men in rolling to the triumph and these five warriors missed only three free tosses. The Herd had a shooting percentage of 46.6 while holding the Red Raiders to a 38.7 firing from the floor.

The lead changed hands seven different times in the first half and although West Texas led most of the way through the initial half, the Red Raiders held a 24-19 lead with only 48 seconds left in the first 10 minutes of play.

Left hander John McClure put the Herd outfront in the ball game with a set shot from the corner, but Eugene Carpenter, the lanky 6-8 center from Big Spring, tied the count at 22 on a hook.

Then the lead started changing hands with each bucket, and near the end of the first ten minutes of play, Jim Reed pushed in a jump shot for Tech to take a 16-15 lead. Harold Robinson put the Herd back in front with a set shot, but Carl Ince and D. Blackshear, each recorded two-pointers to hike Tech into a lead which they maintained until 7:04 of the first half.

Jim Scott, West Texas, the free throw leader of the nation, got the lead for good on a set shot and added a pair of charity heaves when he was fouled by Carpenter. At this stage of the contest the Buffaloes were outfront 31-28. The Herd had the Tech crew down 51-42 at the half, for what was then the biggest point spread of the game.

West Texas had a comfortable 19 point bulge with 6:54 of the game remaining when the Red Raiders put on a full court press, and before the Buffaloes had added another point the Tech cagers had narrowed the gap to 81-73.

But in the fading moments of the hard fought battle, husky Ray Burrus recorded a pair of two pointers and McClure canned another before the gun ended the contest.

Handsome Jim Scott of the Herd captured scoring honors for the night by recording 25 points. He also had seven straight free shots which now puts his free throw aiming to 91.4 for the year. Reed netted 24 points for the Red Raider cause and played a great game of ball.

West Texas also captured the Freshman game played here earlier in the afternoon by taking a 66-65 triumph when they came from behind in the closing minutes of play.

MUTE GIRL MAKES FRIENDS

Louisville, Ky.—Delores Schneider, an eight-year-old deaf mute, solved the problem of making friends and playing with other children, when her family moved into a new neighborhood — by teaching the children the sign language. There's hardly a child of her age in the neighborhood who can't hold his own in two-handed conversation.

NOT AS BAD

At a West Coast port not long ago a Navy doctor intercepted a sailor who was carrying aboard a rather unusual pet, a baby skunk. "You can't take that thing below decks," the doctor ruled. "Just think of the odor down there." "Oh, that's all right," the sailor assured him. "Let him get used to it the same as I did."

GOOD REASON

Little Tommy was about to buy a ticket to the movies. The box-office girl asked him, "Why aren't you at school today?" "Oh, it's all right," piped Tommy earnestly. "I've got the measles."

SOUR PUSS

Bobbie: "You say your sister's boy friend chased you out of the living room last night?" Dickie: "Yeah, but I got even with him. I put quinine in sister's face powder, and every time he kissed her he made such a face that now she won't speak to him."

EXPENSIVE SHOPPING

Valpariso, Ind. — On the way home from buying a loaf of bread, Mrs. Elizabeth Sherrer's car stalled on a railroad crossing just as a train roared down the tracks. Mrs. Sherrer jumped to safety, but her car was destroyed. She still held on to the loaf of bread.

Federal censuses are planned in three fields next year.

ADVERTISING PAYS OFF

Denver, Colo. — A few days before Christmas, Frank Ross, 32, showed up in the downtown area, carrying his young daughter and a sign pleading for a job. Two days later, he selected a $112-a-week oil field position from among 25 offers he received.

GRANDMA HAS TRIPLETS

Hominy, Okla. — Mrs. Cecil Morgan, who is a grandmother at 34, recently gave birth to triplet girls, increasing her family to nine children. Mrs. Morgan's oldest daughter, Mrs. C. M. Vandever, 16, has one child and is expecting another.

AUSTIN: Veterans' land scandals got the silent treatment last week. Four witnesses refused to testify.

The senate investigating committee took other testimony behind closed doors, silent so far as the public was concerned. And, the House veterans' affairs committee stymied its own public investigation in a tangle of technicalities.

A House committee member, Rep. Bill Elliott of Pasadena, charged "organized pressure" to block further investigation of the issue.

Speaker Jim Lindsey had sent a separate House investigation resolution to a different committee, state affairs.

Ex-Land Commissioner Bascom Giles, head of the Veterans' Land Board until Jan. 1, invoked the Constitution and refused to testify as to his business dealings with several persons named in testimony about block deals.

C. O. Hagan and C. P. Ernsters, principals in much of the land-sale testimony, followed L. V. Ruffin in refusing to testify.

Insurance Hearings
Hearings started in both houses of the Legislature on a long list of bills to "clean up the insurance mess."

Sen. Searcy Bracewell told a Senate committee his bill to firm up capital requirements was "tough." The committee put it in a tending sub-committee for three weeks.

It would raise minimum requirements for future legal reserve life companies to $25,000 capital and $125,000 surplus, all in cash or bonds. Smaller existing companies would continue, but would be limited in size of policies and re-insurance, until they reached the minimum. Those with investments of minimum capital and surplus in office buildings or real estate mortgages would have three years to convert to cash.

The House Insurance committee heard the three state insurance commissioners and others propose corrective measures, including state regulation of the sale of insurance securities.

Shepherd Wants 13 Laws
Attorney General John B. Shepherd asked for legislation "to prevent another Duval County."

Speaking to 200 publishers at a Texas Press Association convention in Austin, Shepherd revealed that his legal skirmishes with Boss George Parr disclosed many shortcomings in Texas laws.

He recommended 13 bills, and asked the editors to help effect passage. Most of the bills would tighten control over county funds and call for annual published reports of expenditures.

Suggested Taxes
Tax Proposals continue on the penny basis set by Gov. Allan Shivers' program. His two-penny gasoline tax hike, good for $60 million a year, was introduced earlier by Rep. Charles Murphy of Houston.

Rep. W. G. "Cotton" Kirklin of Odessa introduced the other Shivers' bill, the one-cent cigarette levy, good for $15 million a year.

Rep. Curtis Ford of Corpus Christi offered the familiar penny-a-thousand-foot natural gas dedication tax bill. He figured it would bring in $33 million a year.

And, Rep. Jerry Sadler of Percilla dropped in a penny-a-glass, $3.30 per barrel, beer tax, estimated to produce $16 million a year.

All faced an ultra-conservative revenue and taxation committee. From Rep. Jack Bryan of Buffalo came a proposal to place a three per cent gross receipts tax on establishments engaged in storing or parking motor vehicles.

Bills in the Hopper
Approved by the House of Representatives, was a bill to increase the pay of state officials. If acceptable to the senate, the pay scale will go to $25,000 for the governor; $20,000 for the attorney general; secretary of state, $15,000; and the land commissioner, treasurer and comptroller, $17,500.

Sen. A. M. Aikin, Jr., of Paris and Rep. Barefoot Sanders of Dallas are sponsoring a plan to provide $45 million for new school building construction. It would let school districts vote higher bond issues, up to 10 per cent of the assessed property values.

Two representatives, John T. Cox of Temple and Jack Welch of Marlin, have submitted a bill seeking the death penalty for second conviction under the Narcotics Code, and permitting conviction on uncorroborated testimony of an accomplice.

Sen. Doyle Willis of Ft. Worth has a bill to close beer taverns on Sunday.

A bill to limit the building of lodges in state parks was introduced by Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas.

Sen. Kilmer Corbin of Lubbock wants to make Democrats "out of Democrats." His bill is to prevent Texans from voting in the Democratic primaries and then voting Republican in the general election. Sen. Carlos Ashley of Llano tossed into the hopper a joint resolution that would permit Texas to go after the tourist trade by advertising. An amendment to the state constitution would be necessary to remove the old, old, ban designed to keep the carpetbaggers out of Texas.

New Officials

While the veterans' land probe rolled on, newly appointed State Land Commissioner and Veterans Land Board Chairman J. Earl Rudder borrowed Ray Clark Diebel from the State Auditor's Department and named him executive secretary of the board.

Lawrence Jackson quit this post soon after Rudder replaced Bascom Giles.

Gov. Shivers will have a new Secretary of State early in February. He appointed Al Muldrow, Brownfield farmer - rancher - businessman to succeed C. E. Fulgham, who resigned to return to Lubbock. Like Rudder, Muldrow is a World War II veteran.

Accidents Caused By Very Few Among The Population

AUSTIN: Does someone in your family—or perhaps you yourself—seem to have repeated accidents? It could be due to "accident proneness."

That's the phrase coined by the experts — psychologists, industrialists, physicians, insurance men and others on the theory that many accidents result from the victim's emotional make-up.

Studies by agencies interested in health and safety have shown that relatively few people are responsible for a high percentage of accidents. Conclusion: a person who has one accident is more likely to be involved in another than a person who has had none at all.

State Department of Health studies confirm this. For example:

A public utility company, trying to cut accident rates among truck drivers, ordered an investigation of every factor which could be contributing, from weather to reaction time of drivers.

Truck accidents increased despite an intense educational campaign. But when drivers with bad records were shifted to other jobs, the company's driver accident rate fell to a fifth of the former rate.

The transferred drivers? They kept on having accidents in their new jobs and at home.

The experts have traced definite personality patterns in accident prone people. Almost invariably they are impetuous, following impulses without deliberation or planning. Their decisiveness is, in reality, a drive for independence and self-reliance in the situation of the moment.

For the most part they have a history of neurotic traits in childhood. They simply reach a point, in their failure to handle an emotional situation, when an unpleasant happening becomes a physical and emotional necessity. Result: an "accident."

While admitting the part accident proneness plays, Texas State Health Officer Henry A. Holle would stress environmental hazards and biologic conditions like fatigue, temporary stress-produced inattention, impaired vision or hearing, and underlying disease.

"Too much emphasis on accident proneness tends to obscure the need of correcting defects in industrial equipment, slum housing, inefficient traffic systems, and inadequate playgrounds."

There is another consolation for accident prone people. Dr. Holle points out that the same studies which show them to be susceptible to accidents also shows them to

Have you ever caught your heel on a cellar step? Skidded on a wet linoleum floor? Climbed on a chair to reach a high shelf, then stepped backward into the hem of your housecoat? Smashed your thumb with a hammer?

When we see someone else in any of these foolish acts, we're quick to say, "Watch out!" If it's a child, we absolutely forbid it to take a chance. Once in awhile, every housewife does one of them and gets by, but more often it has disastrous results.

Carelessness, we've always thought, causes most home accidents. But now the National Safety Council comes out with the statement that common emotions cause more. Being over-tired, worried, annoyed, in a hurry, or even pleasurable excitement, may turn a near-miss into a mishap around the home.

Emotional upsets cause most of the traffic accidents, too, they say. Seems the man who has a good breakfast, a cheerful good-bye at home in the morning, has a better chance in traffic than the fellow who doesn't get an even start on the day.

We're mighty grateful to the people who think up, and carry out, scientific surveys. And we're glad to know that, if we stay calm, don't worry, never get excited or annoyed, cook good meals and never nag the spouse, our family's chance at escaping accident, on the highways and at home, are greatly increased.

Careful, though, girls! We may be headed right back where our grandmothers started — quiet and serene, serving as a shock absorber for the home. Surely science wouldn't do THAT!

HEART FUNDS FROM THE HEART — Pretty little Lana Goodwin, 7-year-old Waco heart disease victim, empties a year's savings from her treasure chest savings into the hands of Dr. W. R. White, Baylor University president and chairman of the 1955 Texas Heart Fund, to become the state's first contributor to the February-long campaign to raise funds to combat heart disease. Little Lana, daughter of Mrs. Lois Goodwin and youngest child in a widowed family of four girls and two boys, first learned she had rheumatic heart disease when physicians made a health check of her first-grade class in Waco's Sul Ross School. Since then, she regularly receives treatment at Waco's Heart Clinic. The $2.58 Lana emptied from the treasure chest into Dr. White's hands for the 1955 Heart Fund represented her "special savings" since the close of last year's Heart Fund drive.

We Must Help

If we students want a youth center, we must put forth a little effort to get what we want.

First of all we should sound off to the adults in our community. Tell them that we want and need a youth center and why we want it. Tell them what kind of youth center you want. Tell them often and loud.

Next we should launch a constructive program of our own. We need to poll businessmen and service clubs to try to gain support for our movement. We need to launch some sort of drive for funds. This would assure the adults that we do not want something handed to us on a silver platter. We need to have an idea about the type of facilities we want in our center and rules for its operation.

Last of all, we must show ourselves worthy of a youth center by making the best use possible of our present facilities and by taking the right attitude in planning and operating our center.

If we do our part, the adults of Canyon will do their best to help us.

Termite Fodder

Have you noticed the desks of CHS? No where in the entire building is the history of the high school more accurately recorded.

These wooden platforms have served as the doodle board, answer pad, pencil sharpener, who's who in the world of romance, and head and elbow rest for generations past and present.

Yes, the desks of CHS have served as well as history texts and termite fodder, but there is another side to this episode. The grooves and gullies of the furniture has cost many a weary student the time recopying his messy paper. It has probably gone far to weaken the eyesight and the patience of a good number of teachers who grade as many as 80 papers a night.

Suppose the state, the one who pays for the desks, requires the students to pay for their desk each semester or to stay after school and refinish the study convenience at the student's expense?

Of course, these sound like drastic measures, but drastic measures are the net result of abuse of privileges and freedoms.

Student of the Week

Nancy Adick, an active member of the senior class, was one of the nominees for senior class favorite. Activities which Nancy has participated are: Future Teachers of America, Future Homemakers of America, and the National Honor Society. "Tig," her nickname given Nancy by her friends, is editor of the annual and Worthy Associate Advisor of Rainbow.

Last year Nancy was assistant editor of the annual, a member of the junior play cast, and a Junior Red Cross representative. She was awarded the English pin for outstanding work done in that subject.

To graduate from college is Nancy's ambition, and her hobby is dancing. She plans to attend West Texas State College or Texas Tech to prepare herself for teaching the primary grades.

Peggy Sheets was another nominee for senior class favorite. Sports being her hobby, she is active in basketball and volleyball. "Polly," as she is known to her friends, participates in FFA, and the National Honor Society.

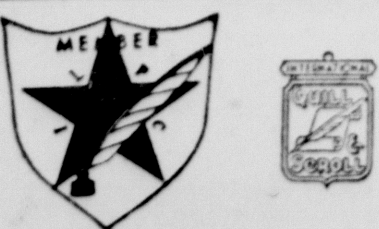

In the past Peggy was freshman class favorite, reporter of the sophomore class, and a junior class representative to the Student Faculty Congress.

Peggy's ambition is to graduate, and she plans to enter her chosen vocation of psychiatry. Her favorite book is Gone With The Wind, and "The Song of Moulin Rouge" is tops in the field of music. Peggy likes Guy Lombardo's band, and Mrs. Nell Sheets is her favorite person.

Letter Jackets Received by Boys

An ensemble of new apparel was seen around CHS Friday, Jan. 28, as boys sported their new '54 football letter jackets.

Thirty-two boys received letter jackets, the body of which is a soft gray wool with a gold lining. Contrasting to the gray are purple inserts over the shoulders and on the sleeves and pockets.

A proud symbol of CHS is the purple and white letter; a little purple C within the larger white C. The jacket has a pointed collar, and elastic insert on the bottom, and fastens with purple snaps.

Students To Give Solos at Recital

On Tuesday, January 25, at the Top O' Texas Livestock Show in Pampa, the Canyon FFA Livestock Judging Team rated third place on judging beef cattle, and earned an eighth place on the over-all judging of two classes of sheep, two classes of swine, and two classes of beef cattle.

Members of the team were Don Ray, Meade Humphries, and Jimmie Kuhlman. All of these boys placed in the top 25 per cent in competition of 138 boys, representing 46 teams who entered. T. L. Devin, high school vocational agriculture teacher, coached this team.

Results of this contest were announced at the banquet which climaxed this event, held in the Pampa High School cafeteria.

JUST ONE MORE CHANCE

The guy and gal charged around a corner and bumped smack into each other. They stepped back, apologized and started up again. But they both dodged in the same direction, and they bumped once more. Step back, apology, sidestep in the opposite direction, and they bumped once more.

This time he stepped back, raised his hat and gallantly remarked: "Just once more, cutie, then I really must go."

Band Queen To Be Revealed

One of the above group of smiling senior girls will be crowned Band Queen of 1955 by Norris Samuelson, in the coronation ceremony to be staged at the annual band concert, February 3, at 7:30 p. m., in the Canyon High School auditorium. From right to left the trio of girls consists of Martha Quillen, Betty Burrus, center, and June Davis.

Eagles Dehorn Whiteface Herd

Stampeding the Hereford Whitefaces to disaster last Tuesday, Jan. 25, the Canyon Eagles led the Whiteface herd on a wild chase through four rugged cage quarters as the Eagles clutched a 60 to 59 victory over the Hereford team on the Whiteface court.

Each stanza ended with an Eagle lead of 7 points or more except the final period when the Whitefaces galloped within one score of the Eagle advance. Rebound squad for Canyon consisted of Neblett as pivot, and Brandon and Airhart as forwards. The well-oiled Eagle cagers took the offense early in the game with Snapp and Dickerson taking advantage of Canyon set-ups and screens.

Basket-splitting Joe Dickerson stacked 25 tallies through the hoop while Eagle speedster George Snapp pulled the game out of the fire in the last remaining seconds of play by scoring a field goal and a free shot to put Canyon in the clear, 60 to 59.

Percentage-wise the Eagles captured top honors with a record high of 78% success of all free shots fired. This week the Eagles march against the Dalhart Wolves on the Dalhart court, Friday, Feb. 4. Following the Dalhart bout the Eagles press on to Phillips to trade licks with the Blackhawks, Feb. 8.

High School Art Students Select Projects For Current Semester

Crafts objects of original design in the showcase are made by the students in Miss Neelley's art I and art II classes.

Art classes have been working with wood for the past several weeks. They have had in their hands both soft and hard wood. Boxes have been designed and carved, and plaques have been chiseled.

Most of the art students, having tried their hand at woodcarving, are ready to start looking for a new challenge in other crafts or in different mediums of painting and drawing.

Many studies are available in the art department. Craft items include metal work in copper and aluminum, leather tooling, stenciling, blockprinting, woodworking, pottery, and jewelry making.

Other art mediums available are painting in tempera, water color, and oils; sketching in soft lead pencil, charcoal, and crayon; work in colored chalk; and a free expression in any medium through original design.

The art II class works in connection with the annual for the first six weeks of each year in study of layout and design for the school yearbook. The art class then assists in drawing layouts and designs and finishes the art pages of the annual.

Students enrolled in the art I course are Joe Bailey, Gwen Carter, Theora Cosby, Ronald Green, Alan Hanks, Mike Hood, Don Lundgreen, Rachel Maynard, Theresa Mickey, Billy Partridge, C. G. Pond, Weldon Priehard, Bruce Ransom, John Riley, Carie Belle Ruggles, Gary Shepard, Jo Warren, Mary Whealy, and Ruby Yarbrough.

Students taking the art II course are Betty Brotherton, Mary Frances Dodson, Annette Dugan, Mary Sue Hicks, Barbara Shepard, Virginia Walker, and Ray Green, who is taking a third year of art.

The department is only four years old, and is headed by Miss

Claudia Neelley, formerly of Lubbock High School.

Girls Take Upset; Perryton Wins

Perryton squeaked by the Canyon Eaglettes 48 to 46 in a spirited game last Friday night in the Perryton High School gym.

The score was 32-39 at the end of the third quarter and the Eaglettes fought hard during the fourth quarter to bring the score to a narrow two point margin, but failed to produce the last needed field goal.

Scoring honors for the two top Eaglettes that night were 17 points each. The free throw percentage read 40% for Canyon and 44% for Perryton.

This was the Eaglettes' sixth conference game.

PASSIVE IMPASSE

Diner: "Waiter, didn't you hear me say, 'Well done'?"

Waiter (ignoring the pale pink steak): "Yes, sir, thank you very much sir. It's seldom we get any thanks, sir."

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., recently gave $20,000,000 to a fund to advance Protestant theological education in the United States.

Announcement of Band Queen will be a featured highlight of the band concert Thursday, Feb. 3, in the CHS auditorium at 7:30 p. m. Nominees for the reigning title are Betty Burrus, June Davis, and Martha Quillen.

June Davis will be escorted by David Miller in the colorful coronation. June has been an active member of the band serving on the band council two years, and on the majorette line three years. Last year, June was an attendant to the Band Queen of '54, Jo Ann Mickey. Previously June was elected class treasurer, FFA historian, member of Junior Who's Who, president of FFA, and FTA treasurer.

Betty Burrus will be chaperoned by Joe Dickerson. Betty has been in the musical organization four years and this year holds the position of secretary. Betty plays solo bassoon of the band, and was an attendant to the queen last year. Betty is on the "A" string girls basketball team and a member of FFA, FTA, and is Junior Red Cross vice-president. After graduation, Betty plans to enter the medical field at West Texas State or Texas Tech.

Martha Quillen will be attended by Norris Samuelson. Martha has been a majorette for three years. Previously, Martha was a Band Queen attendant and Football Queen candidate. She is a member of FFA and Rainbows. After receiving a diploma from CHS this spring, Martha plans to continue studying at Texas Tech.

A preliminary election was held a short time ago, where the candidates were elected by secret ballots. To be eligible to have the high honor, the nominee must be a junior or senior and passing in all subjects.

Tickets for the concert are 25 cents for students and 50 cents for adults.

Cagers Column

B Squad Receives Bum Steer

Hereford's Whitefaces rustled a 6 point lead over Canyon's B squad in the last few minutes of the undergraduate game, Tuesday, Jan. 25, when the Hereford Herd captured a final score of 66 to 40.

Canyon had held a scoring edge over the Whiteface team in the second and third periods and tied in the first stanza 8 to 8. Cross, Canyon center, split the basket for 11 points shadowed by Montgomery, Canyon forward, with 10 points. Hereford high scorer was Weeks with 15 credits, 33% and 42% were the free shot averages for the Eagles and Whitefaces, respectively.

Canyon Squads Fry Hornets

B squad and freshmen teams mixed with the Tulia Hornets last Thursday, January 27, with the B squad winning 31 to 22 while the Hornets were dumped by the Canyon "fish" 45 to 34.

Quarter scores for the B game were, 8 to 5, 15 to 12, 22 to 18, and 31 to 22 in favor of Canyon all the way. High scorer for Canyon was Melvin Cunningham with 20 points.

The score at half-time for the freshman game was 21 to 11, Canyon in the lead. Leonard Miller scored highest for Canyon with 24 credits.

Eagles Scalp Rangers

Holding a 10 point edge over the Perryton Rangers for the second time this season the Eagles landed a score of 63 to 53 at the Perryton stronghold last Friday, January 28.

The Eagles bombarded the basket with 18, 32, 48, and 63 points at the end of each stanza. Perryton failed to pull a basket ahead of the Canyon squad, having for quarter headings, 9, 22, 40, and 53 credits scored against the Eagles.

Eagle regulars knocked no lower than 8 marks per man through the hoop with Dickerson continuing his recent 20 point per game average. In keeping with the field goal activity Eagle cagers dropped 76% of their free shots into the net for additional score changes.

Brandon, Airhart, and Neblett coordinated in backboard control while Snapp and Dickerson took offensive leads. Eagle cage machine functioned with a determined spirit and good team cooperation.

CROWN JEWELS

A fellow who was doing the marketing for the household after paying for an order of calves brains, sarcastically asked the butcher: "Are you sure these are calves brains?"

The butcher replied: "Of course, what kind of brains did you think they were?"

The customer came back: "At the price you're charging, I thought they were Einstein's."

Just Between You, Me . . . and the Gatepost

By Lawrence Hunnicutt

The world does seem like a small place occasionally when you meet a person and first think he is a stranger then find out that he knows many of the people you know. This happened to us last week when we met LaVerl Thompson, a barber who recently leased the Patterson Barber Shop. It will probably be known as the Thompson Barber Shop in the future.

LaVerl and his wife moved to Canyon last week and by this time should be receiving visits by a number of young married couples in town. In getting back to that small world subject, LaVerl formerly worked with the people at the Post Office barber shop in Amarillo. Two of the barbers there, Zell and Floyd Bivins, are friends of ours. There were other and more closely related people to us that LaVerl also knew. Yep, from many angles it's a small world.

Speaking of business, we stopped to chat awhile last week with Loyd Childers but he wasn't there so we talked with his wife. Mrs. Childers believes 1955 should be an excellent year. At least by the end of the first month, she says, business seems to be better all over town, the weather isn't too awful bad and the people in general appear very pleasant as they go about their duties. The only cloud on the horizon of happiness is the fact that most people seem to have either a slight or a bad cold.

The new doors for the court house created a subject for conversation last week. They sure improved the looks of the court house. One person commented that now we have the new doors, all we have to do is build the new court house around them.

One of the sayings heard on television last week was, "looked like Columbus when the dam burst," we don't know just what the saying means. Columbus was quite a sailor, so he should have felt right at home when the dam burst.

Windbreak trees will be available through the office of the county agent until March 1. John Brazil explained some of the details of the trees and their purpose of them in a brief conversation Saturday. John said you could pick up the application at his office on the ground floor of the court house. You can request delivery of the trees any time between now and April 1st. The trees are available through the Texas Forest Service, are to be used for windbreak purposes and a minimum order of trees is 100, but the trees only cost about $1.00 per hundred so that isn't bad. John had a couple of samples in his office Saturday, they may still be there. Why don't you drop in to see him if you can use some windbreak trees?

The planting of trees, flowers, and shrubbery seems to be fairly common all over town already this year. In fact the yards and homes about town should look very beautiful this spring and summer because so many people are putting out additional flowers. West Texas State College campus is simply bristling with new plants and shrubbery.

Come spring time we'll see the results of what's happening along the flower front. Of course we won't know until after today whether or not we're due for an early spring or not. This being ground hog day we'll just have to wait until dark and see if the little fellow sees his shadow. If he doesn't, according to some old legend or something else that no one seems to know the specific nature of, we've got the winter made. If he sees his shadow, it's just too bad for us, he goes back into his hole and winter remains another six weeks. Maybe the ground hog is simply so ugly that old man winter simply can't stand to look at him. At any rate it seems that there just isn't room for the ground hog and old man winter both with us at the same time.

The Buffaloes walloped heck out of Lubbock's Red Raiders Friday night. The final score was 87 for the Buffs and 78 for the Raiders and some of the visiting fans probably had rooting sentiments sort of tugged at from both sides. Dr. Clark Harvey, presently with Texas Tech and formerly of the West Texas State faculty, was visiting for the game. Of course he was pulling for his team from Tech but it simply isn't human for him not to feel a little sentiment for his former co-workers of West Texas State. Dr. and Mrs. Harvey and their children enjoyed a nice visit here with former friends.

TV is still in its infancy, it's taking the cast-offs from radio and the movies.

The young miss looked seriously at her boy friend as she said, "Sometimes daddy takes things apart to see why they won't go, so I believe you better go."

The doctor entered his office and noticed a tough looking character and an old maid in the waiting room. At the receptionist's desk he spoke out of the side of his mouth as he asked, which came first, the hen or the yegg?

The awkward age for boys has been defined as the age when they are too young to leave alone and too old to trust with a baby sitter.

Double Ceremony For Brothers

In double ring ceremony, in Clovis, N. M., Friday, January 14, at 3:15 p. m., Betty Ann Miller and Joe G. Barrett and Ruth Parker and Gary L. Barrett exchanged wedding vows simultaneously in the parsonage of the First Baptist Church.

The Rev. Joseph B. Underwood officiated.

Mrs. Joe Barrett is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Miller. Mrs. Gary Barrett is the daughter of Mrs. John Parker. The bridegrooms are brothers and sons of Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Barrett. All of the persons are from Happy.

Immediately following the wedding ceremony the couples left on a short trip to Wilcox and Tucson, Arizona. In Wilcox, they visited the Reed N. McDonalds, cousin of the grooms.

Mrs. Joe Barrett will continue her studies at Happy High School where she is a senior. Mr. Barrett left Wednesday, January 19, for Lackland Air Force Base where he will be stationed for his basic training.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Barrett are leaving for Seattle, Wash., to make their home. He will be employed as an aircraft mechanic for Boeing Aircraft Co.

MRS. D. MARSHALL IS HOSTESS TO PALO DURO-RUSK CLUB

Palo Duro-Rusk Home Demonstration Club held regular meeting on January 25 in the home of Mrs. Douglas Marshall.

Meeting was opened by group singing of songs and unison saying of the club prayer. Mrs. Bill Dugan gave a special number by playing and singing. Roll call was answered with square dance and folk song titles.

Taking part on the program on early day recreation were Mesdames Bob Dawson, Charles Conatser, Bill Dugan, Anna Honeycutt, Henry Miller, Charles Reitz, Dick Lowery, and Clem Dugan.

Refreshments were served to 12 members including the hostess. Next meeting will be February 8 with Mrs. J. C. McClendon.

We can see a reason these days for that expression "contented as a cow." Why wouldn't they be, standing around in all that high-priced meat?

Lawyers Seek Amendments to Present Laws

Two major, but antiquated, Texas laws soon will be modernized to meet present-day requirements, if recommendations of the State Bar of Texas are adopted by the Legislature.

A New Probate Code and Corporation Act were endorsed by the board of directors of the state lawyers organization at its meeting just concluded in McAllen, and will be introduced in the Legislature as bar-sponsored measures.

Both measures have been studied carefully over a period of several years by many of the outstanding lawyers of the state. Present drafts have been discussed at a number of legal institutes held in all parts of Texas.

The Corporation Act is intended to be a complete statutory framework for corporations from the time of organization to their dissolution. Except for provisions relative to fees and franchise taxes which would continue to be found in other statutes, the Corporation Act would be the complete body of law governing the corporations to which it would apply.

Drafters of the proposed Probate Code rearranged present statutes in logical order and eliminated present uncertainties. The new code has collected all statutes relating to probate matters and brought them together in one code.

State Bar President R. N. Gresham of San Antonio, said: "Revision of these laws is long overdue. Modernizing them will be a service to Texas lawyers as well as the clients they advise." He pointed out that the Probate Code was first enacted in 1848, and reenacted with little change in 1878. "Corporation laws must be brought up to date to keep pace with Texas tremendous industrial growth," he declared.

WHO?

A well-known author chanced upon a large number of copies of a long, incredibly dull book, which contained no index. Since they were cheap, he bought them up and mailed them anonymously to his friends, with the comment: "I think you will find this book interesting, especially the references to you, which, I hope, you will not consider offensive."

"Smile away 'Washday Blues' with an ELECTRIC Clothes Dryer!"

"I really had the washday blues when I had to hang clothes on the line. Besides the long walk out to the line, and lifting that heavy clothes basket, there was always the uncertainty about whether the clothes would be dried right."

"That's all gone now with an electric clothes dryer, and I have a smile — and time for a coffee break — on washday. What's most important, I know the clothes will be dried perfectly and I've ended the lugging and lifting."

says

Mrs. Bill Bates
3603 37th St.
Lubbock,
Texas

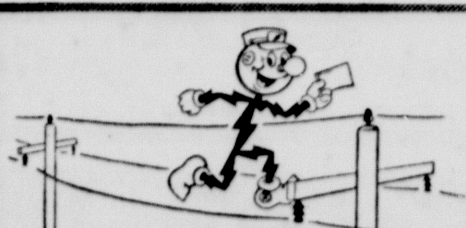

Ladies, the lugging out to the clothesline adds up to one-third of a mile every washday, and the lifting, by the end of a year, is the same as picking up a two-ton load.

Be like Mrs. Bates, instead of lifting on washday, get a lift with an electric clothes dryer.
